About Us

Food & Supply Source is a one-stop food, services, and supply partner to nonprofits, social and human service organizations throughout the United States. Our program is completely free and is all about saving YOU money on food and supply purchases. We serve over 3,000 organizations daily and our typical customers realize a 10-35% discount on their current spend. Since 1999 we have been the preeminent solution for the human service sector.

How It Works

We leverage purchasing power with our nationwide distributor network and have negotiated the lowest possible prices on behalf of all of our members. The process begins when you complete the Cost Analysis Form on our website. With a copy of your typical invoice, we will compare your current costs against the lower prices we are able to obtain through relationships with our partners across the nation. After reviewing our analysis you are ready to join Food & Supply Source and start realizing significant savings today!

Who We Serve

At Food & Supply Source our mission is to help your organization save time and money while improving overall efficiencies. We service organizations across the United States as well as Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Food & Supply Source caters to a wide range of organizations, from rehabilitation centers and churches to residential programs, daycares and everything in between.

Food Purchases

In today’s environment it is essential to keep food costs down. We are particularly sensitive to the challenges of doing so in nonprofit and service organizations. Food & Supply Source is committed to supporting your team as you go about the business of achieving your missions. Our analysis of your current food budget and prospective savings will show strong benefits to your program. Plus, we offer free menu planning and nutrition reporting to our members.

Menu Planning

Using our proprietary software program, our NutriSource team, led by registered dietitians, will work closely with you to develop or revise your food program to meet institutional goals and objectives. As long as you are purchasing food from one our distributors, you are eligible to take advantage of these services free of charge and without any contractual obligation.

Your Source for Savings Since 1999

“Working with Food & Supply Source for the past 2 years has been an easy transition. I was able to keep my current vendor, who became a member of Food & Supply Source. I have received great service and better pricing by doing so.”

Gina Johnston Owner & Executive Director | Growing Room SWFL

“Food & Supply Source has been a true blessing to our organization. We have saved a significant amount of money by utilizing their services. The money saved has been instrumental in helping us minister to the less fortunate who come to us for help. We are completely satisfied with Food & Supply Source and would highly recommend their services to your organization.”
